

Every graduate should be expert in entrepreneurship: Dr Chowdary

■ Two-Day International Conference on 'Paradigms in Emerging Corporate Eco-System' at ICAI University

■ Staff Reporter
RAIPUR, Jan 20

THE Faculty of Management Studies and Faculty of Commerce at ICAI University, Raipur organised an International Conference on the topic 'Paradigms in Emerging Corporate Eco-System'. The Chief guest for the inaugural ceremony was Dr Y S Chowdary, Former Minister of State and Sitting Member of Parliament.

Guest of Honour was Dr A K Srivastava, Director Institute of Management and Dean FMS, Pt Ravi Shankar Shukla University, Raipur.

The guests and participants were connected through an online mode. The programme started with garlanding and lighting of lamp on the photo of Maa Saraswati.

Dr Satya Prakash Dubey, Vice-Chancellor, welcomed all the guests. In his presidential remarks, he congratulated to entire conference team for organising the international conference at the present time. New policies are being included in Management field, while new methods are being told for research work it is definitely the sign of youth energy and intellectuality, he added. The business world will develop with new paradigms and new technology on this subject along with this, industries will get an opportunity to move forward, Dr S P Dubey said.

Starting the series of speeches, Dr Y S Chowdary said that there are many schemes of the Government which can benefit in many ways to the students of the graduate-level from the University. Let us provide them chances for business. Every graduate who is coming from University should be expert in entrepreneurship. He focused on agriculture entrepreneurship should grow. He also emphasised on technology/skill based Human Resource to take the country to new heights.

Dr A K Srivastava addressed that there is a need to set high standards in the corporate sector. Today management at various levels is seen as a consumer driven business and change is a continuous process; we can discharge only when society accepts us.

Dr Ranikisan Singh, Vice-Chancellor of ICAI University, Dehradun said that today new paradigms are being set in the field of Management. New technology and resources are being created for research in the country and abroad.

As a keynote speaker on Day-1, Technical Session-1 of the conference, Dr V V Ajit Kumar delivered his expert talk in the field of Management.

In Day-1, Technical Session-2, Pradip Kumar Das, Executive Director of IDBI bank was key-note speaker. He delivered at a length about the role of banks in economical development and GDP of India along with facts and figures of banking development.

In Day-2 Session-1, Keynote speaker was Lt Gen (Retd) Lt Gen Arvinder Singh Lamba, PVSM, AVSM, who addressed on various key points like Geopolitics Global and Regional perspectives, India's foreign policy challenges and National Security.

In Session-2 of Day-2, Keynote speaker was Dr Marry Jessica, Dean, School of Management, Central University, Hyderabad. She elaborated about the economical way of Human resource management.

Dr Ravikiran Patnaik, Registrar expressed his gratitude to the Chief guest, Guest of Honour, Vice-Chancellor, Conveners Dr Debendra Shadangi, Dr Jayant Isaac and Dr Anand Bethapudi for this conference and said that some new methods and new ideas would emerge out of the conference.

In this international conference, all the faculty members of the University and dignitaries including guests were present. In this conference, a total of 52 papers received out of which 42 papers were selected for presentation. Participants and subject experts joined online and presented their papers. Along with this, about 150 teachers, research scholars and students from the country and abroad marked their presence in this conference through online mode.

The News Clip of the International conference proceedings Paradigms in "Emerging Corporate Eco System "on 19-20.01.20220 at ICAI University, Raipur