

Sandwich and Mock tail Making

In 21st Century, the Academic Education is integrating reasoning, psychomotor and emotional learning in students for the overall development of an individual. Thus, there came a need of incorporating Co-Curricular activities balancing with Curriculum and Syllabus. One such activity “Sandwich and Mock-tail Making” was organized to refresh students and exhibit their non-academic abilities. Participation in this activity assisted students in many ways through grooming them, making them creative, developing them aesthetically, developing specialized skills etc.
