Editorial

Dear Readers

Greetings of the day !

It gives me immense pleasure to share with you all the latest edition of the university magazine Chronicle.

"The world is moved along, not only by the mighty shoves of its heroes, but also by the aggregate of the tiny pushes of each honest worker." - Helen Keller

The quote acknowledges that heroes exist, and that they do move the world with their mighty shoves, it also reminds us that there are others who help. It says that each of us contributes a small portion, and the aggregation of all those small pushes, both ours and those of others, also moves the world.

The quote encourages us to not forget our contribution. It urges us to continue, in our own humble way, to contribute to moving the world. Even if it's hard for us to measure, our contributions do make a difference. And that effort, the quote says, is our chief duty in life.

Hence, I would like to thank each person for their valuable contributions for the magazine.

Enjoy every moment you have because in life there aren't any rewinds, all you are left with are the flashbacks. We have worked hard to bring up an exhilarating flashback of the events and achievements during 2021 to 2022.

I hope you will enjoy reading this edition and will give your valuable feedback for the next edition of the university magazine.

Happy Reading !

TAKE THAT LEAP!!!

Natasha Pallavi (Faculty Associate ICFAI Education School)

“Adventure is worthwhile in itself.” – Amelia Earhart

Sky, is what I used to watch quite often ever since I started walking. Like every teen, I had a bucket list too. To-Do list, was a list of things that I wanted to do in my lifetime. Few things were easy, some difficult and some seemingly impossible. One of these exciting experiences was - Skydive.

While working in middle-east, I experienced the thrill of skydiving in Dubai. Jumping over The Palm Jumeirah is a lifetime experience. I have the highest praise for the staff at Skydive Dubai. They are well trained, extremely pleasant, and the jumpmasters are top notch. My jumpmaster, Jack, who made me feel completely at ease. During his briefing, on one hand I was waiting for the action part....anticipating the jump, on the other hand I could hear my throbbing heart too.

That morning I reached the Skydive Centre in Dubai. We put on our harnesses and helmets and were given some instructions. After signing a few papers we were on our way to the plane! There were three of us in the plane and we took off into the air. The adrenaline rushing in my veins and I could feel it.

After take-off the aircraft gained an altitude of 13,000 feet above the ground and we could see the horizon. I was strapped to my instructor yet all I could see in front was an open door and wind gushing on my face. I just had to enjoy the thrill. And The Final Moment when I was seated with my feet on the edge and about to jump all I wanted was to hold that feeling long enough, that excitement and the thrill. Within the next blink we jumped off the plane there I was feeling the 'G' effect. I never appreciated my subject – 'Geography' as strong as that very moment. That free fall towards the ground at 200 km an hour! Everything below me looked so small and my breath was literally taken away. There was absolutely no fear but thrill and excitement. I could barely smile as the air pressure on my face was extremely strong.

The free fall was an unmatched experience of falling and I wish it continued a little more than what it was. The parachute opened and everything slowed down. We floated peacefully towards the landing spot, sighting the beautiful humanly created islands.

This was definitely one of the most exhilarating experiences of my life. The sensation of falling from altitude so high was amazing and the adrenaline rush was crazy. I would definitely do another skydive if I had an opportunity.

The Gender just & neutral working norms: the need of the hour at public and private sphere¹

Rupaksh Sharma (Assistant Professor ICFAI Law School)

“One is not born, but rather becomes a woman”

Simone De Beauvoir, The Second Sex (1949)

Our society is divided into various practices and thoughts, thoughts which are being generated by the people based on their experiences in life. When these thoughts start turning into strong beliefs, it may affect the society as whole. When these beliefs are gender specific, it may distress the man and women in many ways especially women. Feminism believes that no one should be disadvantaged because of their sex.² The gender biased conditions whether at the private or at public sphere may lead to gender discrimination. It may be least costly for one gender and on the contrary, highly costly for the others. This imbalance is affecting the people at large. The fundamental instrument on Human rights states that “All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights”³. Similarly, CEDAW requires state parties to take

The practices and strong beliefs of the Gender biased society is the root cause of the gender discrimination, which is against the existing legal system. The gender norms pressurize the working conditions and interfere with the just outcomes through restricting individual choice. It can be well explained by understanding the concept of the glass ceiling effect in women's career. The glass ceiling effect is the pervasive resistance to the efforts of women and minorities to reach the top ranks of management. The glass ceiling effect takes place due to certain behavior and practices. To illustrate, gender bias operates unconsciously and hence is uncontrollable. Even those who reject gender bias are unconsciously expecting the men and women to behave in a particular way which are traditionally associated with their gender and it's called implicit bias.

Moreover, gender norms make us perform in the environment in which we are expected to be less successful according to our gender roles and this is called stereotype threat. The notion of men to be rational, competitive and planned at the workplace and women being emotional, friendly and kind are another way by which society uses rigid roles to keep women passive. It is not difficult to recognize the unfairness of implicit bias and stereotype threat and differential treatment of men and women which lead to inequality and unjustified discrimination. The women have to prove herself more than she would have if she were a man. In order to be as good as men, women have to pay a higher cost of better performance. The cost, especially the psychological, is higher than any other cost paid by the women. Some women who are capable of paying the higher cost are not being ensured to be at higher positions due the stereotype threat. Others are unable to pay this price and their freedom of occupational choice is thereby limited.

Further, it's costly for the individual to frustrate the gender expectation. It's true that when dealing with a person's gender expectation in a certain way, the person starts to systematically behave in a way that conforms to others' expectations. It's become impossible for the person to fight against these due to reasons like fixed patterns of action. It's difficult for women to break this pattern of behavior as it becomes part of the society as patterned behavior generates legitimate expectations.

Another mode of glass ceiling effect can be the expectation to take care of the household and family. It's believed that women are solely responsible for the taking care of nearest and dearest in the family as it has emotional and nurturing behaviors. These acquired duties of women, curtail one's fundamental freedom and rights. The radical feminist believes that an exclusive feminine gender identity is detrimental to women's development as a full human person. Therefore, they encourage women to embrace androgyny. As most of the time the feminine behavior is devalued and considered inferior. They were of the viewpoint that they need to move beyond the feminine. Although adopting masculine traits does not provide the solution from the social legitimate expectations. Even it may add some worst trait behavior of man, in the process of adopting the androgynes. The most appropriate solution can be to free women to express and choose their own gender identity and behavior. So, they can decide what characteristics they want to choose and how they want to behave.

In the nutshell, it can be stated that gender norms are located at many levels of society and in many cases, women are just hitting a glass ceiling, they might also be climbing a broken ladder. The gender norms can be part of the people's emotions, careless reactions, unconscious or semiconscious conclusions. It's impossible to make changes in the position of the women in society only by changing or reframing laws and providing protective discrimination. A tremendous change is possible only if it is done through individual interactions and individual conversion towards gender neutral working norms in the public and private sphere and ultimately towards a gender-Neutral society.

India i.e. Bharat...

Some Important Facts which we all should know:

Mr. Diwakar Das Placement Manager, ICFAI Law School

India i.e. Bharat is not only the world's Biggest and Oldest democracy, it is also the country of moral values, cultures and organized education and eco-system.

Residential Education Facilities:

Historians of the Subaltern approach have always considered India as the country of primitive concept and uncivilized by reading certain specific parts of the country and customs.

World's oldest residential Universities like Taxila University, Nalanda University Vikramshila University are sufficient evidence to prove them wrong. Our scholar's contributions are now recognized by the western part of the globe.

Sanskrit:

One of the oldest Languages with pure phonetics – Sanskrit. World's biggest stock of vocabulary. Grammar propounded by Panini – Ashtadhyayi (Eight Chapters).

Numeric, Ganit and Jyamiti:

The Cyclic or Non-linear patterns of SWASTIKA and arrow of TIME (forward – future and Backward - Past) of the Arya Rishis are also evident in Indus Valley Seals. Zero given by Aryabhata

Rasayana: Indian Chemical Science

During Vedic Period the discussion on Rasayan Sastra has been quoted.

Ayurved:

Ayurved is the oldest form of treatment and Solah [16] Sanskar as the prolific and purest form of social system. The medicinal pattern has been credited to save millions of lives during and post Pandemic. Now the world has recognized our Ayurved power. The UN has declared 21st June as the World Yoga Day. The contribution of Yoga and Ayurved cannot be denied these days.

Jyotir evam Mahajagatika Vidya: Indian System of Positional and Astronomical science

Prakriti Vidya: Ecology and Atmosphere Science. We worship mother nature and mother earth.

Nandan Tathya evam Vastu Vidya:

Indian System of Aesthetics-Iconography and built environment and Architecture.

Shilpa Evam Natya Sastra: Classical and Performing Arts.

Arthasastra:

Economics as Arthasastra, Sastra and Sastra Gyan as defense knowledge, world's oldest form of Martial Arts as Kaliyarapattu. Writer of Arthasastra Chanakya alias Vishnugupt alias Kautilya said "A state cannot follow the path of peace if it does not have a strong arm.... Arth i.e. commerce and trade policy... and it should be progressive..."

Nyay Sastra:

India has the oldest judiciary system in the world. But before describing the judicial system of ancient India I must urge you all to reject the colossal falsification and misrepresentation of Indian Jurisprudence and the legal system of ancient India by certain western scholars and especially the European colonial writers.

The myth that we did not have any form of coded law is a planned misrepresentation by the modern scholars. Through Manu as the first king of civil society he gave us first codified law of the land in the form of Manusmriti.

Three important systems of substantive law were recognized by the court, the dharmashastra, the arth-shastra, and custom which was called 'Sadachara' or "Sadcharitra".

- Ved [Rigved, Samved, Atharved, Yajurved]
- Dharmasastra
- Manusmriti
- Brihaspatismriti
- Narada Smriti

- Yagyavalakya Smriti
- Katyayana Smriti etc are the specified formats of Law and System.

However, there are some good and some unpopular examples that also exist in our society. In modern times we have an active concept of Judicial Activism. Judicial activism is considered an important component of justice.

It gives an opportunity to the judges to pave the way for something new other than the prescribed arrangements. In fact, judicial activism does not change the oath taken by the judges but allows the judges to do what they consider high within reasonable limits.

If someone who crosses his limit or overrides any existing law, then it cannot be said to be proper and to do so would be contrary to the Constitution. It is necessary that we should respect the dignity of each other.

परिस्थितियों से थोड़ा परेशान हू बस
सह लूंगा इस पीढ़ा को भी
यह कोई आम बात नहीं
निकल जाऊंगा इससे क्योंकि आम इंसान नहीं मैं बस

मत करो अपना अवास्तविक प्रेम का ढोंग
क्योंकि हू त्महारी नजरो में घृणा का आधार मैं

मुझे गर्व है मैं दूर हू तुम जैसी नकली हस्तियों से
जिस दिन बहूंगा देखना लगेगा कोई निकला परशुराम की अस्थियों में ।

अपने कार्य के कारण कभी मोती ना बन पाओगे
जब समुंदर में कूदोगे नहीं तो उसे संघर्ष कैसे कहलाओगे

देख लेना एक दिन एक ऐसी जगह पहुंच जाऊंगा
तुम जैसों के देख के मुझे पैर कपकपाएंगे

देख लेना संघर्ष मेरा एक ऐसे दिन एक ऐसे क्षण पर लाएंगे
जब विचार तुम्हारा मुझको बिलकुल फर्क न दे पाएंगे !

मत रखो तुम किसी से आस या कैसी भी आशा
मान लो वरना मिलेगी तुमको भी पीढ़ा और निराशा।।

मान लो मेरी ये बात मुसीबात पे ना दिखता कोई साथ
कहने वाले मिलते बहुत

पर अंत में थक हार के आएगी पीछे से एक आवाज
तू चल मेरे शेर तेरा बाप खड़ा है तेरे साथ !!

Tiny Efforts, Happy Soul

Gayatri Sharma [Pen name- theewetales]

Ba-Llb (Hons.) 1st year (2022-2027)

If you see someone
Creating an art,
Creating the minute details and even some stars
Appreciate them
That would bring their smile, down their heart.

If you see someone
Dancing with their heart and soul,
Appreciate them
Because in their tiny world, you'd play a big role.

If you see someone
Making their way through tough times,
Appreciate them
For when they needed it, nobody was there;
And maybe in their fresh start, you could help them shine.

If you see someone
Taking small steps towards their big dreams,
Appreciate them
Maybe you can be the pat and calm they need
In their world, which is full of screams.

If you see someone
Trying hard to smile, & then finally smile,
Appreciate them
For they might have had their demons
Holding them tight
And to finally escape them, it has taken a while.

If you see someone
Who appears alive after a long time,
Appreciate them
Maybe from the crowded, dead stems of the mind
They have finally fought,
And can finally breathe peacefully, after a long, long while.

Your little appreciation can save someone.
Your tiny efforts can make someone.

The Bystander

Muskan Raj
BALLB (hons.) 4th year (2019-24)

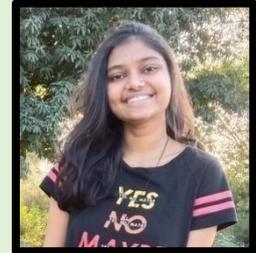

The bystander
The way to my roots,
Is longer than it looks

Once, I too was a sprout
But on the way, I stopped wondering what this is all about

It took me awhile to build these branches
When the wind blows, it dances

You seem to think these are my flowers, I believe?
Oh, these are not
They are just the shadow of my leaves

Before leaving, could you do me a favor?
Could you tell me what colour is this garden?
You see, I only see white and grey
Oh! I see it's a hassle
Then I shall wish you
A happy journey on the way

[The poem is named “The bystander” as it starts with the arrival of a person trying to know about a plant (poet) and ends with their departure. The first two lines talk about the roots, that is the real self of poet which is much harder to see than what is shown on the outside.

The poet then talks about when she was a child, when she was still curious of the world around her. But now that she started growing, curiosity changed into a craving for peace.

The poet is now telling about her growth (the branches) to the bystander, which took time to grow. She's happy that at least when the wind is in her favor, she dances.

Now the poem is a conversation between the bystander and the poet. The bystander asks about the flowers (happiness) of the plant. The plant clarifies that they are not her flowers, but a shadow of her leaves instead. Here, the leaves are her memories. The poet is still unsure of whether her happiness is real, so she chooses to give her good times credit for it.

After listening to the plant, the bystander decides that it's better to leave, since he cannot find any meaning in the plant's words. Realising this, the plant thinks, “oh I've talked for too long, so I must stop” and asks him of a last favor, if he could tell what colours are in the garden (the World) since she can only see white and grey (the darker side). To this, the bystander hesitates. The plant understands, and asks for forgiveness for asking such a favor and bids him goodbye.]

Who's at fault?

Muskan Raj
BALLB (hons.) 4th year (2019-24)

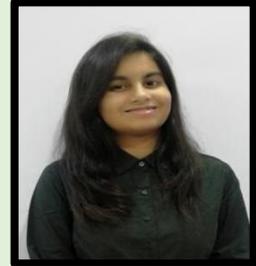

We may want to give up living
But who's at fault,
When it's we who have made it hell to live-in?
Sure, we all are alone in The Journey
But is that really bad,
When will we get to be the makers of our Key?
Sometimes the air feels suffocating
But isn't water the same?
Still we just don't stop drinking it
It is said that life hands you lemons
But is that true?
Because they don't scare off Demons
I think that life hands us Rope
With which we can either tie a knot
Or "skip" ahead with Hope.

A Map of Emotions

Mihika Swaroop
BALLB (Hons) 4th Year (2019-2024)

I am an emotional person, I always have been.
I feel things too deeply, an open book for all to read.
Sometimes I feel anger scratching against my bones.
Other times I feel happiness down to my toes.
I can feel love fluttering its wings in my chest.
Nervousness tends to give me cold feet
And disgust leaves goosebumps, at the very least.
Time doesn't stop when my stomach clenches with fear.
The weight my body bears in defeat always feels queer.
And how can I forget the pride thundering against my ribs
Or even the excitement that is swaying with my hips.
Oh, there is a sour taste of guilt in my mouth
And grief leaves my throat raw and makes me want to shout.
But the hope throbbing against my chest is so hard to ignore
And gratitude, oh gratitude, you always make my heart soar.
So yes, I am too emotional, I always have been
I feel things too deeply, an open book for all to read.
But these emotions make me human and so much more real.
And my body, an atlas, mapping all that I feel.

Now I turned Eighteen

Aparna Shri , BA LLB 1st year

Yes, now I turned eighteen
My innocence became my stupidity
My cuteness became my obesity
Before, I could ask millions of doubts,
But now, people say "please don't shout", when I used to ask a question.
When I wanted to be out,
I am still a child,
But people expect me to become smart and wise.
I am jumping to a new phase of life,
But no one is interested in making me bright.
Comments on my body are affecting me now
Even talking to a male friend seems to be a crime,
In society's eye.
To be adult is not only full of surprises,
But it takes lots of effort and effort.
